Style Tile Write-up

My design choice to use my first style tile. The way the colors popped out were more fun and I thought would encourage people to visit the website. I also didn't want the page to be too crowded since I thought that would make things way too messy. A very simple opening should keep a prospective customer on the low end of anxiety. Plus, there is information to help sell while also giving it a positive review.